Acknowledgments

We wish to thank Laura MacGregor, Sophia University, Tokyo, Japan; Cheryl Zimmerman, ESL Program Coordinator, California State University–Fullerton; and Eliane Zamboni, Centro de Ensino de Línguas, São Paulo, Brazil, whose comments were so helpful in improving the book as it developed. We also wish to thank Janaka Williams of Cambridge University Press, whose expert scrutiny contributed further to making the book a better one. Also at Cambridge University Press, David Bohlke’s editorial advice was invaluable, and Paul Heacock helped get the book finished. But, above all, the authors are indebted to our American adapter, Ellen Shaw, who not only made sure the text was faithful to American English usage, but who made numerous suggestions for improving the content and the exercises. Without Ellen's collaboration, we would not be publishing this American edition.

We would like to thank those who helped in the making of English Vocabulary in Use–Elementary, the British English book on which this is based: Gillian Lazar, Geraldine Mark, and Stuart Redman for their invaluable reports on the initial manuscript. We are also grateful to the students and staff at various institutions who assisted in piloting the material in different parts of the world: Hülya Akgün, Özel Gökdil Lisesi, Istanbul, Turkey; Monika Barczyk, Sosnowiec, Poland; Anna Cerna, The Bell School, Prague, Czech Republic; Leigh Fergus, Paris, France; Sharon Hartle, Verona, Italy; Gary Hicks and David Parry, Embassy Language and Training Centre, Hove, England; Grazyna Kanska, Warsaw, Poland; Stephanie Lott, St. John’s–Bell Language Centre, Bangkok, Thailand; Elena Marinina, Moscow State University, Moscow, Russia; Dr. Mirosława Modrzewska, Gdansk, Poland; Dr. Ramzy Radwan, Cairo, Egypt; M. G. Rogers, English One, Seville, Spain; Margot Teschendorf, Melbourne, Australia.

Many thanks are due Nóirín Burke of Cambridge University Press, who guided this book through the editorial process. She set the deadlines that motivated us to get the book done, and chased us when we lagged behind. Geraldine Mark, as usual, proved to be the most professional of editors when the manuscript passed into her hands and made many useful comments that have improved the book. Our domestic partners must always get a special thank you for being so tolerant of the long hours we spend away from them in the company of our computer keyboards. Whatever faults and shortcomings remain in the book must be laid entirely at our door.

To the Student

This book has been written to help you learn new vocabulary. You already know hundreds of English words, but to speak and write English in normal situations you need to know at least 1,000–2,000 words. In this book, there are around 1,250 new words and phrases for you to learn. You will find them on the left-hand page of each unit. Every new word or phrase is used in a sentence, or in a conversation, or has a picture with it, or has some explanation of what it means. On the right-hand page there are exercises and other activities to help you practice using the words and to help you to remember them. The book has been written so that you can use it yourself, without a teacher. You can do the units in any order you like, but we believe it is a good idea if you do Units 1 and 2 first, as they will help you to work with the rest of the book in the best possible way.

New vocabulary for each topic is on the left-hand page. First of all, the vocabulary is divided into sections (A, B, C, etc.) with simple, clear titles. New words and phrases [groups of words] are usually printed in bold type [dark letters] and explained in one of these ways:

- A short definition [explanation of the meaning]. The definition comes after the word or at the end of the phrase or sentence; it is in brackets [ ]: unemployed [without a job]; make up your mind [make a decision].

- An example, usually with “e.g.,” which means “for example”: Country can mean a nation (e.g., Brazil, Japan, Italy).

- A slash (/) is often used to show that two words or phrases have similar meanings:
  Do you ever have trouble / have problems understanding English? [have difficulty]
  Sometimes slashes show different words or phrases that you can use in the same position in a sentence. The words don’t always mean the same thing:
  Have a nice day/evening/weekend. [We say this when we say good-bye.]

- Parentheses ( ) around a word shows that you can use it or not use it:
  The movie made me (feel) sad = The movie made me sad. OR
  The movie made me feel sad.

- The word not shows that a phrase is wrong. It often points to common student errors:
  She does her homework every evening. (not She makes her homework every evening.)

- A picture or diagram. This is the clearest way to illustrate a large number of nouns and verbs.

![Car diagram]
For many new words, sentence examples give a situation that helps you understand the meaning:

My friend called me stupid. It made me angry.
She went away for three days. She came back yesterday. [She is here again.]
I hated my sister when I was young, but now we get along very well.

There is an answer key at the back of the book. This not only gives correct answers to exercises with “right” or “wrong” solutions, but also possible answers and suggested answers for exercises that do not have “right” or “wrong” solutions.

The index at the end of the book has all the important words and phrases from the left-hand pages. The index also tells you how to pronounce words. There is a table of pronunciation symbols on page 125 to help you understand the pronunciation.

You should also have a dictionary with you when you use the book. You may want to check the meaning of something, or find a word in your own language to help you remember the English word. Sometimes, you will also need a dictionary for the exercises; we tell you when this is so.

To learn a lot of vocabulary, you have to do two things:

1. Study each unit of the book carefully and do all the exercises. Check your answers in the answer key. Repeat the units after a month, and then again after three months, and see how much you have learned and how much you have forgotten. Repeating work is very important.

2. Develop ways of your own to study and learn new words and phrases which are not in this book. For example, every time you see or hear an interesting phrase, write it in a notebook, and write who said it or wrote it, and in what situation, as well as what it means. Here is an interesting example:

   ready: (man at the door of a theater, to all the people waiting) “Have your tickets ready please!” = have your ticket in your hand.

   Making notes of the situations words are used in will help you to remember them and to use them at the right moment.

We hope you like this book. When you have finished it, you can go to the next book in the series, Vocabulary in Use: Intermediate, and after that, to the higher level, Vocabulary in Use: Upper Intermediate.

To the Teacher

This book can be used in class or as a self-study book. It is intended to take learners from a very basic level of vocabulary to a level where they can use around 2,000 words and phrases. The vocabulary has been chosen for its usefulness in everyday situations, and the authors consulted a written and spoken corpus of present-day English to help them decide on the words and phrases to be included. The new vocabulary (on average 20–25 items per unit) is presented with illustrations and explanations on the left-hand page, and there are exercises and activities on the right-hand page. There is an index with pronunciation for all the key vocabulary, a table of phonetic symbols, and an answer key at the end of this book.

The book focuses not just on single words, but on useful phrases and collocations. For example, difficult teaching points such as the difference between do and make are dealt with through collocation (we do our homework, but we make mistakes), and useful phrases (e.g., come over, in the unit on come) are presented.

The book is organized around everyday topics, but also has units devoted to core verbs such as get and bring/take, as well as units concerned with ways of learning vocabulary. Typical errors are indicated where appropriate, and the most typical meanings and uses are focused on for each key item. The units in the book can be used in any order you like, but we would advise doing the initial units on learning vocabulary (Units 1 and 2) first, as these lay the foundations for the rest of the book.

The right-hand pages offer a variety of different types of activities, some traditional ones such as fill-in-the-blanks, but also more open-ended ones and personalized activities which enable learners to talk about their own lives. Although the activities and exercises are designed for self-study, they can be easily adapted for pair work, group work, or whole-class activities in the usual way.

When learners have worked through a group of units, it is a good idea to repeat some of the work (for example, the exercises) and to expand on the meaning and use of key words and phrases by extra discussion in class, and find other examples of the key items in other texts and situations. This can be done at intervals of one to three months after first working on a unit. This is important, since it is usually the case that a learner needs five to seven exposures to a word or phrase before they can really know it, and no single book can do enough to ensure that words are always learned first time.

When your students have finished all the units in this book, they will be ready to move on to the two higher level books in this series: Vocabulary in Use: Intermediate by Stuart Redman, and after that, to the higher level, Vocabulary in Use: Upper Intermediate, by the same authors as this book.

We hope you enjoy using the book.

Learning strategies

Tip: Keep a vocabulary notebook. Write the words you learn from this book in your notebook. Use a good dictionary. Ask your teacher to recommend one. You will need it for some exercises in this book.

Write down words that go together (collocations).

You do the exercises in this book. Sometimes, you make mistakes in English. In your vocabulary notebook, write: do an exercise and make a mistake.

When words are used together like this, we call it a collocation.

You go by train, but on foot [walking].
Some people are good at languages. (not good in)
I saw a very tall man. (not high man)

Tip: Always write down collocations when you learn a new word.

Learn words in families.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Word family</th>
<th>Some words in the family</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>temperature</td>
<td>hot, warm, cool, cold</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>travel</td>
<td>ticket, passport, suitcase</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Tip: Make a page for every different word family in your vocabulary notebook.

C
Pictures and diagrams

Draw pictures in your notebook to help remember words.
For example: car

Draw diagrams like this one. Add more words as you learn them.

Tip: When you can, use pictures and diagrams.
One more tip: Look at the words you have written down again and again!
Exercises

2.1 Look at Unit 3. How many more collocations for have can you write in your vocabulary notebook?

have a party, have lunch, .................................................................

2.2 Which words can go with weather? Use a dictionary.

wet high big dry warm happy cool rainy light wet weather

2.3 There are two word families here. Complete the chart with the word families and examples from the box. Use a dictionary.

school bread teacher milk notebook exam water salad student rice

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name of word family</th>
<th>Words in family</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>education</td>
<td>bread</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

2.4 Draw simple pictures to help you remember these words.

Example: to cry

1. a plane lands
2. sunny weather
3. under the table

2.5 Write words in the empty circles.

Chair desk dress clothes hat

furniture

Tip: Now make sure you have started a vocabulary notebook before you do the other units in this book.
Have

Have often means to own or possess.
I have a computer.
We have a small house.
I don’t have enough money to buy a car.

What can you have?
You can . . .
have breakfast.
have a party.
have a class.
have a cup of coffee/tea.
have a cold (when you’re sick).

Other things you can have

Time words (1): days, months, and seasons

Basic time words

There are:
- 365 days in a year.
- 24 hours in a day.
- 12 months in a year.
- 60 minutes in an hour. (Note: an hour)
- 52 weeks in a year.
- 60 seconds in a minute.
- 7 days in a week.
- 100 years in a century.

Days of the week

Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday

The names of the days always begin with a capital letter in English.

Saturday + Sunday = the weekend (in most English-speaking countries)

Monday morning = Monday (before 12 noon)
Monday afternoon = Monday (between 12 noon and about 5 or 6 p.m.)
Monday evening = Monday (from about 5 or 6 p.m. until 9 or 10 p.m.)

We say on + days of the week: on Monday, on Saturday, etc.

I saw her on Friday / on Tuesday evening.

We say on/over + the weekend.

I went skiing on the weekend / over the weekend.

Months and seasons

Months: January, February, March, April, May, June, July, August, September, October, November, December

The names of the months always begin with a capital letter in English.

Some countries have four seasons: spring, summer, fall/autumn, and winter.

We say in + months/seasons: in July, in May, in (the) fall, in (the) summer, etc.

My birthday is in March. (not on March) Birds sing in (the) spring.

Tip: Write the day and date in English whenever you do an English exercise.
Exercises

16.1 Complete the sentences with a word from A on page 34.

1. There are 3,600 seconds in .................. an hour ..................
2. There are 1,200 months in ..................
3. There are 168 hours in ..................

Time words (2)

Time in relation to now

Now means at this moment. Then means at another moment (in the past or in the future).

It is 10 o’clock now.
I got up 2 hours ago, at 8 o’clock.
I’ll eat lunch in 2 hours.
Then it will be 12 o’clock.

for two years [for + a period of time]
from 1997 to 1999
from 2017 to 2019

I lived in Brazil for two years. I worked in Rio from 1997 to 1999.

last year / last week / last Saturday next year / next week / next summer

It is July now.
Last month it was June.
Next month it will be August.

When we talk about time in general, we talk about the past, the present, and the future.

In the past people didn’t have computers.
People may travel to Mars in the future.
I’ll be with you in a moment. [a very short time]
Jane is on the phone at the moment. [now]
See you soon! [in a short time] We met recently. [not long ago]

B

Frequency adverbs

always often now and then not often rarely usually sometimes occasionally hardly ever never

It always snows in Canada during the winter.
It often rains in Seattle.
The temperature in London hardly ever gets to 35°C. [almost never]
It never snows in Singapore.

Note the use of a in these expressions of frequency:

once [one time] a week: I go swimming once a week, every Saturday.
twice [two times] a day: I brush my teeth twice a day.
three times a month: I play soccer three or four times a month.

Prefixes come at the beginning of words. They can help you to understand what a new word means. Here are some common prefixes.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Prefix</th>
<th>Meaning</th>
<th>Examples</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>ex</td>
<td>was, but not now</td>
<td>ex-wife, ex-boss</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>in, im</td>
<td>not</td>
<td>informal, impossible</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>mis</td>
<td>wrong or badly</td>
<td>misunderstand, misbehave</td>

<tr>
<td>pre</td>
<td>before</td>
<td>preschool</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>re</td>
<td>again</td>
<td>redo, rewrite</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>un</td>
<td>not</td>
<td>unhappy, unsafe</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

An ex-wife is a wife who is now divorced from her husband. She is my ex-boss from my last job. Informal clothes are clothes like jeans and a T-shirt. Formal clothes are things like a suit.

If something is impossible, you can’t do it. It is impossible to read with your eyes closed. If you misunderstand something (or someone), you think you understand or know it, but you really don’t. If someone misbehaves, then he or she is behaving badly. A nonsmoking room is a room where people may not smoke. A preschool is a school for children who are too young to go to regular school. To redo something is to do it a second time, and to rewrite something is to write it a second time. Unhappy means sad, the opposite of happy. Unsafe means dangerous, the opposite of safe.

Tip: Sometimes words with prefixes have a hyphen (-) (e.g., ex-wife), and sometimes they don’t (e.g., impossible). Use a dictionary when you are not sure if there is a hyphen.
Exercises

25.1 Complete the sentences with words from the prefix chart on page 52.

I feel sick/ill. Can you call a doctor? (possibly a serious problem)
That fish was bad. I think I’m going to be sick / I’m going to throw up! [vomit]

Everyday problems
I have a headache. Have you got an aspirin?
I have a toothache. I need to go to the dentist.

I’m going to bed with some hot tea. I have a cold.
(See Unit 3.)

Problems people have for many years / all their lives
I get allergies every summer, from flowers and grass. I sneeze all day.

My little brother has asthma; sometimes he can’t breathe.

Illnesses in hot/tropical countries

In some places, mosquitoes can give people malaria.
The drinking water was bad, and many children had cholera. [a disease caused by bacteria in the drinking water]

Serious illnesses
My father had a heart attack.
He is in the hospital.
Every year cancer kills many people who smoke.

How to stay fit and healthy
Eat a good diet: Eat lots of fruits and vegetables.
Get some exercise: Swimming, jogging, and cycling are good for you.
Don’t have too much stress: Relax after work or class.
Don’t panic about work!

Greetings and other useful phrases

A

Every day

Good morning.  Good afternoon.  Good evening.

Hello.  Hi.

How are you?  Fine, thanks.  How about you?

Pretty good.

When you leave someone, usually you both say Goodbye or maybe See you soon or Take care! (informal)
When someone goes to bed, you usually say Good night. You can also say Sleep well. Don’t say Good night when you arrive somewhere, only when you leave (at night).
If you ask for something, you often say Please.
If someone does something nice for you, you say Thank you or Thanks.

Special days

If someone is going to do something difficult (e.g., take an exam or have a job interview), you say Good luck!
If someone has done something special (e.g., done well on an exam, gotten a new job, had a baby) you say Congratulations!
When it is someone’s birthday, you say Happy Birthday. (not Congratulations)
On (or just after) January 1st (New Year’s Day), you say Happy New Year.

Countries, languages, and people

All the nouns and adjectives in this unit always begin with a capital letter, e.g., Africa (not Africa) and Spanish (not Spanish).

Continents and countries

The names of the continents are marked in blue. It is not possible to show all the countries of the world on this page. If your country is not included, check its English name with your teacher or in a reference book such as an atlas.

People

Adjectives of nationality describe people from different countries, groups, or regions (e.g., a Brazilian man, a Korean woman, a Mexican family, etc.).

With -an: Mexican, Canadian, Korean, Russian, Australian, Chilean, or -ian: Brazilian, Indonesian, Egyptian, Peruvian, Venezuelan, Italian
With -ish: Spanish, British, Polish, Turkish, Irish, Swedish, Danish
With -ese: Chinese, Portuguese, Japanese, Vietnamese, Taiwanese

Exceptions: French (from France), Dutch (from Holland), Swiss (from Switzerland), Filipino (from the Philippines), Thai, Greek, Iraqi, Arab, Israeli

Languages and people

Words for languages are usually the same as the adjective of nationality: English, Chinese, Spanish, Japanese, Thai, French, Korean, Portuguese, etc. An exception is Arabic (the language).

38.5 Write a paragraph about your city or town. Use words from page 78.
In the country

The country (or the countryside) means “outside of cities or towns” and often includes farmland. Country can also mean a nation (e.g., Brazil, Japan, Italy).

Things you can see in the country

Living and working in the country

In the country, many people live in a town [an area smaller than a city] or a village [smaller than a town].

A farmer lives on a farm and works in the fields.

My friend lives in a cabin. [a small, simple house in the country or mountains]

Nature

Nature means “everything in the natural world” (e.g., animals, birds, plants).

I love nature. (not I love the nature.)

I like walking in the country. (not I like walking in the nature. “Nature” is not a place.)

Animals, birds, fish, and insects that live away from people are called wildlife.

There is wonderful wildlife in the north of the country.

Conservation is the protection of animals, plants, and natural areas from damage (e.g., wildlife conservation).
39.1 Cover page 80. How many names of things in the country can you remember?
